The World Bank defines Collective Action as ...

civil society

private sector

public sector

academia

“... a collaborative and sustained process of cooperation amongst stakeholders ...

It increases the impact and credibility of individual action, brings vulnerable individual players into an alliance of like minded organizations and levels the playing field between competitors.

Collective Action can complement or temporarily substitute for and strengthen weak local laws and anti-corruption practices.”

Collective Action is an advanced step of fighting corruption as a Company

Our Mentoring Programme

The Mentoring Programme is addressed to legally established not-for-profit organisations.

Our Programme could be in the form of:

- ✓ one-to-one mentoring for an organisation in relation to a specific Collective Action initiative;
- ✓ mentoring organisations dedicated to fostering the development of anti-corruption Collective Action initiatives; and
- ✓ mentoring organisations that, although their core focus is not necessarily anti-corruption issues (e.g., human rights), they may want to develop related activities through Collective Action that have an impact on corruption.

Our Mentoring Programme offers

- ✓ advice on how to conduct context and stakeholder mapping and analysis relevant to the proposed aims of your Collective Action;
- ✓ helping to identify and explain your business case and incentives to attract private and public sectors engagement at the outset;
- ✓ identifying techniques to develop stakeholder trust so you attract the right people to the table;
- ✓ framing the scope of your initiatives, the development of a Collective Action strategy and building relationships with your relevant stakeholders;
- ✓ mentoring the facilitator directly, including organization and logistics, and managing antitrust risks;
- ✓ helping your organization to train and empower their facilitator;
- ✓ advice on working through consensus;
- ✓ advice on internal and external communications of the Collective Action.
